Guide to the Bumpers of Wheels on 570 KLIF (NOV, 2022 to APR 2024)

2023 September 30

2024 April 22 (MOST RECENT) – CORRECTIONS / UPDATES

In the radio business, music is often played when transitioning to or from a commercial break. This music is called a “bumper”. The bumpers of the KLIF Wheels radio show follow a regular pattern, with some well defined variances. This report documents Ed Wallace’s bumper strategy for the broadcast’s current form, which began November 5, 2022 and airs for four hours every Saturday from 8:00AM to 12:00PM CST.

Weekly Bumpers

Some bumpers occur weekly (every Saturday). The following table documents these:

KLIF 570 AM WHEELS - WEEKLY BUMPERS
Song	Performed By	Year	Slot
Late Show with David Letterman Theme	CBS Orchestra	1993	8.TOH
Classic Tracks medley	various	various	8.CT
Run Runaway	Slade	1984	9.TOH
Backside of American History medley	various	various	9.BOAH
Run Runaway	Slade	1984	10.TOH
Second Hand News	Fleetwood Mac	1977	10.SHN
Run Runaway	Slade	1984	11.TOH

To decipher the slot column, please see the following key:

Bumper Slot Key
Slot Code	Code Meaning
8	8 O'clock Hour
9	9 O'clock Hour
10	10 O'clock Hour
11	11 O'clock Hour
TOH	Top of Hour Bumper
CT	Classic Tracks
BOAH	Backside of American History
SHN	Second Hand News

For example, the slot code "8.TOH" means that that bumper plays in the 8 o'clock hour at the top of the hour. And as another example, slot code "8.CT" means that that bumper plays in the 8 o'clock hour leading into Classic Tracks.

The bumper that leads into the Classic Tracks segment is a medley of several songs. The following table documents its composition:

KLIF 570 AM WHEELS - CLASSIC TRACKS MEDLEY BUMPER

The bumper that leads into the Backside of American History is a medley of quotes famous quotes played over the national anthem. The following table documents its composition:

Playlist Bumpers

For bumpers not attached to the top-of-hour or a recurring segment, Wallace employs a playlist. The playlist consists of what songs to play within a specific hour when returning from a commercial break.

The number of these bumpers can vary during the first two hours of Wheels, because a long Classic Tracks or Backside of American History segment can cause one or more commercial breaks to be skipped. Bumper music is only played within the hour to which it is assigned (8, 9, 10, and 11). Bumper music does not rollover to the next hour. For example, if the last commercial break is dropped from the 8 o'clock hour, the associated song is also dropped and the 9 o'clock hour starts with the first song assigned to the 9 o'clock hour. It is not uncommon for human error (i.e. playing the same song twice in a row) to cause violations of this process.

There are 20 playlists, so each playlist runs once every 20 weeks. The following tables document these playlists, assigning each with a letter of the alphabet.

-- CORRECTION (2023 December 24) --

During the December 23rd 2023 edition of Wheels, Don Grantham alerted the audience to the fact that the bumper 11.B2 for Playlist T is a combination of Spirit in the Sky (Norman Greenbaum) with La Grange (ZZ Top), and not only Spirit in the Sky. Outside Automotive regrets the error and has updated the guide accordingly.

Also of note is that the December 9th 2023 edition of Wheels skipped over Playlist Q. This was likely an error by Wheels, as was the case of playing Playlist D twice in a row in September, 2023.

-- UPDATE (2023 December 31) --

The December 30th 2023 edition of Wheels cycled back to Playlist A. During this playing, it was noted that Eric Clapton's song After Midnight holds the 9.B1 slot. The source for the table was the bumpers played during the March 25th 2023 edition of Wheels, where that song was skipped to play The Jimi Hendrix Experience song All Along the Watchtower in that slot. The bumper table for Playlist A has been updated accordingly.

-- UPDATE (2024 January 14) --

The January 13th 2024 edition of Wheels aired Playlist C, which aligns with this guide. During this airing, it was noted that Boston's song Peace of Mind holds the 8.B2 slot. The source for the table was the bumpers played during the April 8th 2023 edition of Wheels, where that song was skipped to play Thin Lizzy's song The Boys Are Back in Town in that slot. The bumper table for Playlist C has been updated accordingly.

This discrepancy was noted during subsequent airing of Playlist C, but the corrections were misapplied and injected errors into the bumpers listed for slots 8.B3, 9.B1, and 9.B2. Outside Automotive regrets these errors.

-- UPDATE (2024 January 27) --

The January 27th 2024 edition of Wheels aired Playlist E, which aligns with this guide. During this airing, it was noted that the positions of the two known bumpers for the 9 o'clock hour have a swapped order. This ordering matches the original airing of Playlist E on December 3rd 2022.

The source for the table was the bumpers played during the April 22nd 2023 edition of Wheels, where only Dude Looks Like A Lady by Aerosmith was aired as bumper 9.B1 and no bumper was aired in the 9.B2 slot. The next airing for Playlist E was September 16th 2023, where Don't You (Forget About Me) by Simple Minds was aired as bumper 9.B1 and no bumper was aired in the 9.B2 slot.

-- CORRECTION / UPDATE (2024 February 26) --

The February 24th 2024 edition of Wheels aired Playlist I, which aligns with the date progression established by this guide. During this airing, Don Grantham alerted the audience to the fact that the bumper 8.B2 for Playlist I is Somebody (Bryan Adams). It was erroneously listed as It's in the Way That You Use It (Eric Clapton). Outside Automotive regrets the error and has updated the guide accordingly.

Some contention also arose regarding the performer for bumper 8.B3. The song is I Only Want To Be With You, which was originally released by Dusty Springfield in 1964. The AHA Music Song Finder identifies the bumper audio aired by KLIF Wheels as I Only Want To Be With You (Eliot Goshman Stereo Remix), which is a 1997 collaboration of Dusty Springfield and Eliot Goshman. Yet, Don Grantham asserted that this was the works of Ed Wallace. It could be an unreleased artifact from Wallace's DFW Power & Light venture in the UK that incorporated the London Symphony in 2008. Whereas there is no provenance available to validate Grantham's assertion, Outside Automotive concludes that the best path is to leave the attribution unchanged, as Dusty Springfield and her original release have the strongest claim on the material.

-- UPDATE (2024 March 10) --

The March 9th 2024 edition of Wheels aired Playlist K, which aligns with the date progression established by this guide. During this airing, Don Grantham noted that bumper 8.B2 is a mash-up of two versions of the song You Really Got Me, with The Kinks' version combined with Van Halen's cover. The table had originally attributed the entire 8.B2 bumper to Van Halen, but has been updated to include The Kinks.

- UPDATE (2024 April 22) -

The April 20th 2024 edition of Wheels aired Playlist Q, which aligns with the schedule recorded by this guide. This was the first airing of Playlist Q where the Backside of American History segment was short enough for a second bumper to have been aired within the 9 o'clock hour. As such, the song Change of Heart by Tom Petty & the Heartbreakers was revealed as the music slotted for bumper 9.B2.

During this airing, Don Grantham implied that the song Summer of '69 by Bryan Adams was the bumper 10.B2. The AHA Music Song Finder confirms this guide's identification of that bumper audio aired by KLIF Wheels as Bryan Adams' This Time.
